

SUN, WATER , PEOPLE

(A performance about Almería developing. Migrations, greenhouses, electricity and water)

The beginning of the current Almería history is linked to massive migrations to Catalonia or Europe during early '50, when villages were left and.

Some years later, electricity allowed the chance of pumping water from deep wells . Lots of sunny days, enough water and hard work call back home our people.

From that moment, greenhouses have painted a new landscape called Plastic Sea and workers from all over the world are reaching a chance for living better . Nowadays, more than 120 different nationalities are coworking and sharing delusions in Almería.
